

Robert Kennedy Was Killed Because He Planned New Probe of JFK's Death, Lawyer-Pathologist

By William Bradford Huie, author of "The Assassination of Robert Kennedy," says that the Warren Commission's report on the death of John F. Kennedy was "a masterpiece of deception."

DR. CYRIL H. WACHT

"I believe the evidence clearly indicates that Lee Harvey Oswald was not the lone assassin of John Kennedy, that the assassination was the work of a conspiracy, and that the Central Intelligence Agency — the CIA — was directly involved."

The doctor, who is also a former professor of law at DePaul University in Chicago, Ill., and editor of the city of Chicago's "The American People" magazine, said that two years after the assassination of the President's death, he received nine pages of material that the government had obtained from a source who had been in contact with the President.

He said that the President had been told that the Warren Commission's report on the death of John F. Kennedy was "a masterpiece of deception."

FLASHBACK to assassination of Robert Kennedy, Nov. 25, 1963.

The shooting taken by Outlook, a Los Angeles newspaper, shows that immediately after the President's body moved back and forth, the bullet immediately struck him in the back of the head. It was almost impossible to see the bullet, but it had been seen in the movement of the bullet and the body of Oswald.

Another very big point is the fact that the 'single bullet' theory of the Warren Commission. They tell us that one bullet passed through two bodies: the President's and Texas Governor John Connally's, that it did all that damage, and that particles of it were left in both bodies. Yet the bullet was not significantly deformed. I have never encountered a bullet that could do that.

Dr. Wacht, who has just completed an inspection of films from the assassination of the late President in the National Archives — he is the first critic of the official report on the death to be allowed to see them — further charged that what items of evidence are still missing from the archives.

The Warren trial of the President and his assassination was without a doubt one of the most important events in the history of the United States. It was a tragedy that has been repeated over and over again in the history of the world.

Dr. Wacht said that the Warren Commission's report on the death of John F. Kennedy was "a masterpiece of deception."

One of the most important points in the Warren Commission's report is the fact that the bullet that struck the President was a .300 caliber Winchester-Shortt rifle bullet. It was a bullet that was fired from a distance of about 300 yards.

Dr. Wacht said that the Warren Commission's report on the death of John F. Kennedy was "a masterpiece of deception."

He said that the Warren Commission's report on the death of John F. Kennedy was "a masterpiece of deception."

Dr. Wacht said that the Warren Commission's report on the death of John F. Kennedy was "a masterpiece of deception."

Dr. Wacht said that the Warren Commission's report on the death of John F. Kennedy was "a masterpiece of deception."